Effective Team work

Have you ever been in a situation where you are working with a YouthBank team and it has become difficult for you to determine the direction of the discussion?

Sometimes, the only thing missing for conversation to take a place, as well as for all the creative thinking to happen, is an effective structure.

What might happen if at your next YouthBank workshop you facilitate a conversation on a topic or issue related to your current YouthBank work using a four step method that starts with the obvious and moves step-by-step through to deeper levels for a team to think and act clearly together?

This method can help you resolve a dispute or discuss difficult issues, reach a level of awareness on a given topic, plan an event, work out team priorities, or share reflections on what has been achieved so far.

Use the Focused Conversation Method in your YouthBank work when you want to...

Provide for meaningful dialogue

Broaden the team's perspective

Come up with clear ideas and conclusions (as an opening or closing of your workshop)

Allow the entire team to participate

Your commitment:

All episodes are connected and therefore it is essential that you commit and set aside time in your work schedule to complete all online and offline follow up work.
